IKE SHRUGS AT CRITICS OF MRS LUCE

Ohio House Committee Members Told To Vote or Suffer Dismissal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Democratic ship of solidarity strained its seams in the tempest-tossed Ohio House Tuesday.

The Democratic-dominated House defeated—at least temporarily—one of Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's tax bills, a measure to increase the state tax on pari-mutuel betting by nearly $1 million dollars a year.

Later, the Democratic-controlled

Elections and Federal Relations committee failed by a single vote to recommend passage of a new utility rate base formula, another administration measure. The utility fight produced a threat to fire two Democratic members from the committee for their refusal to vote on the utility issue.

The final House word on the pari-mutuel bill probably won't come until next week when the House is scheduled to vote on reconsideration of the bill's defeat by a 67 yes, 64 no vote. Seventy votes are required to pass a bill in the House.

Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) gave Reps. Thomas L. Thomas (D-Summit) and Richard C. Malone (D-Montgomery) another chance to vote today on the utility measure. If they refuse again, he told newsmen, he will replace them on the committee.

It is the first time in the memory of legislative veterans that a speaker has made such a threat.

The disputed bill would replace Ohio's 46-year-old rate base formula based on "reproduction cost new, less observed depreciation" with a new formula giving equal weight to net investment and an up-to-date appraisal of a utility firm's property.

With the roll call standing 10 votes in favor and nine against, Thomas and Malone refused four times to cast the deciding votes. It takes 11 votes to recommend a bill out of the 21-member committee.

It is anyone's guess how deep a House split would result from Lantz' removal of the two committee members. But the speaker is well aware he cannot afford to alienate too many votes. With one member in the hospital, he has only six votes more than a bare majority.

There was quite a scramble in the House for about 10 minutes while the roll call was being taken on the race-betting tax bill.

When, after some vote-switching, it became evident the measure would fail by one vote, Rep. Robert Reckman (R-Hamilton) quickly moved for immediate reconsideration.

Since the Democrats had six absentees and obviously didn't have the needed votes on the floor, they rallied quickly to amend Reckman's motion to leave it pending. Had the Reckman motion carried, the bill would have been dead.

If the Democratic lines hold firm when a new vote is taken next week, passage is almost certain and the bill will go to the Senate.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to increase minimum annual pensions for policemen and firemen and to delete an obsolete chapter in the old state building code.

Michigan Faces Payless Payday

No Funds on Hand For Solons, Judges

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The State of Michigan, unable to solve its ready cash problems, is passing up this week's pay days.

Among the 325 state-salaried workers to go without pay checks will be the 144 state legislators who in four months have failed to solve Michigan's fiscal emergency.

Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, at loggerheads with the Republican-controlled Legislature, announced Tuesday that funds were lacking and this week's $100,000 payroll would not be met.

Also to be out of more temporarily are the state's eight Supreme Court justices and all its Circuit Court judges, as well as legislative staff members.

A five-million-dollar payroll for 28,000 state employees is due May 11. Williams had no comment on this.

The governor's move followed a new deadline in the Legislature. At a caucus, majority Republicans of the State Senate refused to go along with a Democratic plan to liquidate the 50-million-dollar veterans trust fund unless a one-cent increase in the 3 per cent state sales tax was tacked on to the bill.

Williams, who has been mentioned for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, termed the situation a "disaster of the first magnitude" and said it was impossible to get cash in time for this week's pay days. Blaming Republicans, he said he would try to "hold the damage to a minimum."

He said the bypassing of the legislators' pay day was "only a coincidence of the calendar."

A falling off in tax income from the 1958 recession year and heavy outlay on welfare funds for unemployed Michigan citizens have contributed to the financial dilemma.

Merchants Meeting Held

The Circleville Retail Merchants Committee appointed a five-man committee to investigate additional markings of Circleville on the U. S. Route 23 bypass.

The committee was named during the Merchants' gathering last night at the Circleville Elks Lodge. Chairman of the committee is Forrest Easterday.

Members are David Yates, Jack Heeter, Phil Moore and Donald Jenkins. Those in attendance were in general agreement that the bypass markings designating the downtown section here were inadequate.

It was agreed that Circleville Days, held Friday and Saturday, were a success. Another such promotion is planned for June.

Promotion committee members are Karl Mason, George Fuhrman and C. O. Schweizer. Staying open on Saturday night also was discussed.

Gasoline Pipe Bursts, Flooding Countryside

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 20-inch underground gasoline pipeline burst near this central Pennsylvania town early today, spilling thousands of gallons of explosive fuel into fields and streams.

Police evacuated at least 25 families in a precautionary move. The flow of fuel was stemmed by closing two valves to the east and west of the break.

A bulldozer was used to build a dam and prevent further gasoline from flowing into the fishing streams in the area.

President Says Clare To Take Job as Envoy

Some Senators Regret Having Voted OK to Sharp-Tongued Lady

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce's usefulness as ambassador to Brazil has not been damaged in any major way by her row with Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

The President told a news conference that he had a telephone survey made Tuesday—after Mrs. Luce hit out verbally at Morse—and concluded that she will be welcome in Brazil.

The Senate gave Mrs. Luce a thumping 79-11 vote of confirmation Tuesday despite bitter opposition by Morse.

Mrs. Luce then said her troubles began when Morse was "kicked in the head by a horse." To which Morse replied that her remark was "consistent with an old, old pattern of emotion instability" on Mrs. Luce's part.

Some Democratic senators who had voted for confirmation of the nomination said that if they had to do it over again they would vote against her.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) arose, growling, to say that Mrs. Luce's statement about Morse indicates "an absence of rationalism" and if he could do it over again, he would vote against her.

Two other Democratic senators, Ralph Yarborough of Texas and Gale McGee of Wyoming, who had both supported confirmation, said they too would like a chance to change their votes.

And Mrs. Luce's husband, Henry R. Luce of the Time-Life-Fortune publishing empire, said in New York he had asked his wife to resign the ambassadorship because of the criticism.

Mrs. Luce, playwright, former Republican congresswoman from Connecticut and former ambassador to Italy, is celebrated for her abrasive tongue. A 1944 speech in which she said Franklin D. Roosevelt "lied us into war" was one of the main things for which Morse criticized her.

It was against this background that Eisenhower was asked whether he thought Mrs. Luce should take up her post in Rio de Janeiro or follow the advice of her husband and offer to resign.

Eisenhower hesitated a moment and then joined in a round of laughter touched off by the way the question was put—whether he thought Mrs. Luce should obey her husband.

Eisenhower then said that although Mrs. Luce's criticism of Morse may have been ill advised, it was human.

She made the remark, the President said, in the heat of anger. But, he went on, so far as he is concerned the criticism of the Oregon senator was not meant as any disparagement of the Senate.

Then Eisenhower said he feels there has been no major impairment of Mrs. Luce's usefulness.

He also said that she had not so far offered to resign. Even as Eisenhower was holding his news conference, Morse was telling the Senate it was true that he had checked a report "as to the mental competency" of Mrs. Luce to serve as ambassador to Brazil.

Morse said he understood there had been charges "of improper conduct" on his part in such checking on the nominee.

The senator said a newspaperman had come to his office with certain information and that on this basis he made a telephone inquiry and then dropped the subject.

There had been reports Tuesday that Morse had sought to learn whether Mrs. Luce had been under psychiatric care.

Headache-Causer Provides Aspirin

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service office here received the following letter from a taxpayer:

"I am extremely sorry but I just realize that I forgot to attach form W-2 to the rest of the papers mailed to you a few days ago. I realize that this will cause extra headaches and am herewith enclosing a couple of aspirins."

Sure enough, there were two aspirins enclosed.

House Dems Certain They Can Override Ike's REA Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—Confident House Democrats awaited with keen political anticipation today what they considered their first chance in six years to override an Eisenhower veto.

Whether their exuberance is justified won't be known until Thursday. The House votes then for the second time this month on a bill stripping from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson his power to veto loans made to cooperatives for rural electric and telephone service.

President Eisenhower vetoed the bill Monday. The Senate overrode the veto Tuesday by a 64-29 vote in a rare display of party solidarity. This was a bare two votes more than the two-thirds necessary to upset a veto.

Only one Democrat, Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, deserted party ranks to vote with 28 Republicans to uphold the President. Six Republicans joined 58 Democrats to support the chief executive.

Should the House follow the Senate pattern, the bill would become law despite the President's objection. He contended that it violated sound policy by giving independent power to an official subordinate to his Cabinet officer. The head of the Rural Electrification Administration is subordinate to Benson.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) predicted the veto would be overridden.

On the basis of the April 15 House vote that sent the bill to the President, the House should override the veto. That vote was 254-131, three short of the two-thirds needed to override. But 40 Democrats missed the vote as did 10 Republicans. Five Democrats voted against the measure and 16 Republicans voted for it. Most of the absentee Democrats reportedly favored the bill and will be on hand for Thursday's vote.

Republicans in both the Senate and the House assailed the vetoed bill as "spite legislation" aimed at Benson by Democrats who long have criticized his farm programs.

The measure actually would leave the REA under Benson's control for general administrative purposes, but it would give the administrator, rather than the secretary, the final word on loans. The present administrator, David A. Hamill, is an Eisenhower appointee.

Heavy Rains Eliminate Drought Worry

Pickaway County agricultural concern over the prolonged dry period was alleviated Monday and Tuesday when 1.28 inches of rain descended upon the area.

Until the heavy rainfall Monday, the county was 1.72 inches behind on the monthly average and 2.33 inches behind on the year. Monday's rain was the first since April 19.

A total of 1.2 inches fell Monday, the heaviest since July 22, 1958, when 1.77 inches were recorded. Monday's rainfall equaled January 21's precipitation, which was primarily responsible for the most damaging Scioto River flood since 1913.

The Scioto rose to 10.03 inches at 8 a. m. today, but not enough to give river bottom farmers much concern.

THE PAST TWO days of rain left the county 0.66 inches behind the monthly average and 1.27 inches behind the yearly average.

No rain is forecast for the next several days. Yesterday's high was 72 and low was 47. A total of 2.64 inches of rain has fallen thus far in April, going against the usual prediction of spring showers this month.

Last-Second Trouble Stalls Titan Launching

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Torulbe at the last second stymied the latest attempt to launch a powerful Titan ICBM.

The big war rocket sputtered out on the launching pad Tuesday and ended an attempt to separate the two stages of the missile in flight.

Western Aides Reach Accord

Package Deal Due To Be Offered Soviet

PARIS (AP)—The Western foreign ministers were understood to have agreed today that they would take up the questions of Berlin and a German peace treaty as a package in Geneva talks with the Soviet Union.

This indication came after the first session of the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. They are meeting to harmonize their positions before the East-West meeting opening in Geneva May 11.

No delegation member would talk for the record. The ministers said in a communique that no information would be given to the press, at least for the time being, on progress.

The reported Western determination to discuss the whole range of Berlin, Germany and European security questions is in clear opposition to the Communist position reiterated only today.

Warsaw Pact foreign ministers, winding up a conference in Warsaw, Poland, opposed any attempt to link up the discussions. They said the "two most urgent and important questions" for Geneva were conclusion of a German peace treaty and liquidation of the military occupation of Berlin.

Britain was waging a lone fight here against a package deal.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd met for lunch then headed back to further consultations with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

Each delegation was seven strong, making a total of 28 men. Herter met privately this morning with Couve de Murville and Von Brentano.

NLRB Hearing Scheduled in Mine Dispute

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today ordered a hearing June 1 in London, Ky., on charges that the United Mine Workers Union is engaged in unfair labor practices.

A group of eastern Kentucky coal operators, whose mines have been struck for nearly two months, filed the charges several weeks ago.

The NLRB ordered the cases consolidated and directed that the hearing be held in the Laurel County courthouse.

Regional Director John C. Getreu ordered a UMW answer to the complaint filed within 10 days of service of the notice of hearing.

The UMW has struck in six Kentucky counties to increase miners' pay $2 daily. Under the old agreement, miners were paid $22.25 a day.

More than 7,000 miners are idled in Perry, Knott, Letcher, Pike, Harlan and Bell counties as a result of the wage dispute.

Invaders Set To Quit Stab Into Panama

Cubans Ask Return Home, Assurance They Will Not Be Punished

PANAMA (AP)—A band of Cuban invaders of Panama today said they would surrender only if assured they would be returned immediately to Cuba and would not be punished.

President Ernesto de la Guardia's government showed no inclination to promise more than its earlier assurance that the members of revolutionary band would not be killed.

The government looked now for guidance to a team of five Latin American ambassadors due here today. They are coming as an inspection team for the Organization of American States.

The invaders' surrender terms were relayed to the government by one of two bearded Cuban officers sent to Panama by Fidel Castro's regime to seek the surrender of the invasion force, which embarked from Cuba last week.

Carrying a Cuban flag, they met the hired invaders in the little town of Nombre de Dios, 50 miles north of the capital on Panama's Caribbean coast. They had halted there Monday after advancing 35 miles along the coast from the beach on which they landed early Saturday.

One of Castro's mediators, Capt. Armando Torres, hurried back to the capital, bringing with him a member of the foreign invading force. They went directly to the Cuban Embassy.

Keeping a line open with the 79 other invaders, Torres colleague, Lt. Fernando Ruiz, remained at their camp in Nombre de Dios.

President de la Guardia said Tuesday night that two more invasion ships carrying up to 300 men were reported on their way to Panama from Cuba.

Panama's Minister of Government Jose Bazan said the country's 3,000 National Guardsmen—the nation's only defense force—have occupied "strategic points and are awaiting orders which will be issued whenever necessary."

Government troops held fire until Castro's mediators had a chance to try to persuade the invaders to lay down their arms on

Suits Found Near Here

Paul Long, who lives at Justice-O'Neal Roads in Monroe Twp., informed the local sheriff's department yesterday that several men's dress suits were found in a thicket near his home.

Long told Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff that the suits were found in an area under water. The clothing was brought to the sheriff's office for examination.

Deputy Radcliff said the suits bore West Virginia identification marks. Mrs. Long said she noticed a suspicious car parked near her home last week, an indication that the driver was disposing of the clothes at the time.

the promise their lives would be spared.

Bazan told the National Assembly the majority of the revolutionists were "civilians with police records in Cuba and the United States." He said they were paid 200 to 2,000 Cuban pesos — $200 to $2,000 — and given "all sorts of promises upon triumphing." Only a few, he said, were members of the Cuban revolutionary army.

Bazan identified their chief as Cesar Vega, a former night club owner. The De la Guardia government has charged that the master mind behind the revolution is Roberto Arias, former Panamanian diplomat who has taken refuge in the Brazilian Embassy and is seeking safe conduct to Brazil.

Cuba's revolutionary prime minister, Fidel Castro, furiously condemned his countrymen's interference in Panamanian affairs. In a news conference broadcast to Cuba from a plane flying him to South America, he said the invasion by Cubans "is embarrassing and inopportune."

Robert Montgomery Returns To Old Hollywood Haunts

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Robert Montgomery is back at the old stand where he started his road to fame 30 years ago.

He's a little thinner on top, a little thicker below, than when he started in sophisticated comedies at MGM in the early talkies. But he has the same roguish twinkle in his eye, the same verve he showed when he was courting Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford, et al, in those long-gone days.

Montgomery is back on the MGM lot producing and directing his own film for United Artists release. It's called "The Gallant Hours," and Bob's old pal, James Cagney, plays Admiral Halsey. "It's not a biography of Halsey," Montgomery explained. "There's enough in his life to make 35 movies. What we're doing is taking three and a half weeks of his life — the critical period of the Guadalcanal campaign.

"We must be crazy to make a picture like this for today's market. It has no sex, no sadism, no monsters. We're not even going all-out for a lot of battle scenes.

British Press Hits Monty For Views on U.S. Leaders

LONDON (AP)—Britain's press fired a concerted blast at Field Marshal Montgomery today, declaring the blunt old soldier chose the worst possible moment to launch a TV attack on the quality of U.S. leadership.

The papers expressed fear Montgomery's derogatory remarks on the eve of the East-West foreign ministers' talks might have dealt a damaging blow to British-American unity.

In an hour-long film televised Tuesday night in America by the Columbia Broadcasting System, Montgomery said that American leadership of the free world is suspect and declared that Britain had come forward to supply the consistency needed by the Western Alliance.

The interview was shown on U. S. screens not long after Montgomery arrived in Moscow for a private visit which some British papers have condemned.

Montgomery, who filmed the interview before making his self-appointed mission to Moscow to examine what ails East-West relations, also fired a scatter shot at President Eisenhower, John Foster Dulles and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

These American leaders, the wartime hero asserted, are "people who are not very well" and added that this is "not good."

Commented the Tabloid Daily Sketch: "Monty is dead right when he says that soldiers should stay out of politics. If only he would take his own good advice."

The liberal News Chronicle said the references to the health of America's leaders were "couched in the worst possible way," and to add the taunt about Western leadership passing to Britain is like a small boy putting his thumb to his nose.

"What will Montgomery have to say to Soviet Premier Khrushchev?" the Daily Sketch asked.

Rape Victim Clears Dixie Negro Suspect

QUITMAN, Ga. (AP)—A white woman who was raped by a Negro cleared a suspect today who had surrendered Tuesday night while a crowd of some 500 persons searched for the attacker.

Jesse Graham Jr., Negro, surrendered to Sheriff R. W. Jones when he learned he was being sought in connection with the rape. Graham was hurried to the Thomasville jail, 45 miles from Quitman, by Jones to prevent a possible lynching.

Sources close to the sheriff told newsmen today the sheriff took the rape victim to Thomasville to view the prisoner and that she said he was not the man who committed the crime.

Graham earlier had been reported by the officer to have been at work in a garage at the time of the attack Tuesday afternoon.

Several men in the crowd searching for Graham were armed. But some of those with guns declared they were opposed to lynching. They said they did not want the town to duplicate the recent incident at Poplarville, Miss., where a Negro was removed from jail. The Mississippi Negro has not been located.

The crowd formed after reports of an attack by a Negro on a 25-year-old white married woman. The woman was fishing alone at a pond three miles east of this south Georgia town, about 2:30 p. m.

She told the sheriff "the first thing I knew I had a rope around my neck."

After the attack she went to a nearby truck stop and officers were called.

'Cold, Clammy Fear' Clutching Godfrey

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, facing a tumor operation Thursday, says the "thing" in his lung gives him a "cold, clammy, clutching fear."

He feels fine physically, he says, but mentally "I'm a mess."

The 55-year-old television and radio star entered Harkness Pavilion of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center Monday and is undergoing tests preparatory to surgery that is to show whether the tumor is cancerous.

The blocking of the waterway was blamed on a fuse which blew in the electrical system lifting a bridge span to let the Prescott go through. The ship's pilot dropped anchor but momentum carried the vessel into the span.

Trapped Dog Fed; Rescue Still Tried

OWASSO, Okla. (AP)—Human contact was made for the first time in six days early today with Little Richard, the coon-chasing hound wedged in a stone crevice six miles from here.

Don Dillard, a tiny Owasso High School senior, fed the nearly starved dog hamburger meat, canned dog food and a tranquilizer provided by a veterinarian.

"He seemed real happy that somebody finally got to him," said the excited 4-foot, 7-inch, 87-pound boy. "I could pet him and he just gulped at the food."

Dr. James H. Collins, Tulsa veterinarian, said he believed the dog now can be kept alive indefinitely. Little Richard became trapped when he chased a coon into the sandstone bluff. He remained six days in an upright position in the base of the narrow crevice. Some six feet above is a wider opening through which the rescuers hope to lift him.

Scores of volunteers used air hammers, rotary drills, and dynamite to provide an opening wide enough to reach the 60-pound dog.

Larry Wilson, part owner of an Owasso funeral home and owner of Little Richard, had an ambulance standing ready to whisk his pet to an animal hospital in Tulsa, 20 miles southeast.

Traffic Offenders Appear in Court

Two juvenile traffic offenders received suspension of their driver's licenses yesterday in Pickaway County Juvenile Court.

Ralph E. Isaac, 16, 670 E. Ohio St., was fined $50 and costs plus loss of his operator's license for one year. His fine was suspended. He also was granted permission to drive during work.

Gary D. Warner, Stoutsville, lost his driving rights for one year. Warner was cited for speeding down N. Court St.

Isaac was arrested for driving left of center. Both boys were arrested by City Police for drag racing.

State Officials Wondering; Where's That Surplus Now?

By CHARLES STAFFORD
Associated Press Writer

"I feel sorry for the next governor," said a veteran Iowa legislator as he considered his state's finances recently. "He'll be like Mother Hubbard when he takes a look in the cupboard, because it's really going to be bare."

Like 28 other states, Iowa has fiscal troubles. Its treasury is solvent. But a 100-million-dollar "rainy day fund" built up during World War II is down to 20 million.

An Associated Press survey of state financial problems indicates 10 states deeply in debt or in imminent danger going into the red. And 16 states, Iowa among them, have some measure of financial difficulties that could become awkward.

Many got into a bind by spending more money than they received, making up the difference by dipping into surplus monies and by borrowing. Others are recession victims: last year's business decline cut their income below their outlays. In some cases, political infighting has added complications.

Fat surpluses accumulated during the war years when construction was curtailed have proved a mixed blessing. Some states have used them to bridge the gap between revenues and expenditures, avoiding tax increases, and found themselves with a hole to plug as the extra money runs out.

Michigan, among the most troubled states, was brought to its current crisis by multiple factors. Generally, over-spending and the recession, complicated by political bickering, has been held responsible.

For three years Michigan spent more than it took in. When a modest, 25-million-dollar surplus evaporated, deficit financing followed. The deficit could reach 110 million dollars by June 30. The state also has nearly 213 million dollars in general obligation bonds outstanding.

The economic decline, which brought a high rate of unemployment to major industrial centers like Detroit, cut into state revenue at a time when it was already insufficient.

The Republican-dominated Legislature blames Democratic Gov.

G. Mennen Williams for the fiscal impasse. "The governor always comes in with a budget increasing services everywhere," complains State Sen. Charles Prescott. "If he's signed a tax bill, I don't recall it."

Williams accuses the lawmakers of dawdling about levying taxes to pay the bills. He also cites population growth as a cause of treasury strains. It rose 21 per cent from 1950 to 1957, with the number of persons under 20 — "tax users rather than tax payers," the governor calls them — increasing 42 per cent.

Williams and the Legislature were deadlocked on a tax program. He wants a personal income tax and an income tax on business. The Republicans insist on an increase in the sales tax.

Meanwhile, the governor used money appropriated for colleges and universities to meet the state payroll, directing these institutions to borrow money. Then the banks cut off credit to the universities.

The governor next appealed to business and industry, which paid May and June taxes ahead of time.

Demands for new services, coupled with escalator clauses that automatically increase the expense of other services, has Ohio in a financial hole. In the last 12 years, the state has run through a 213-million-dollar surplus while going a billion dollars into debt. The reasons: two veterans' bonuses, a 500-million-dollar highway bond issue, and 150 million dollars worth of construction for education, mental hospitals and state office space.

Over-spending income, while balancing the budget from reserve funds, has created financial difficulties in California, New York, Washington, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The recession had a marked effect on the income of many states. In Pennsylvania, tax income declined 113 million dollars. In Connecticut the decline was $6,700,000.

Unemployment brought on by the recession affected the normal growth of government services in some states. Gov. Clinton A. Clauson of Maine says he will hold services at their present level rather than raise taxes when one of every 10 members of the state's work force is jobless.

Georgia has a problem common to most states, the ever increasing cost of education. In Georgia, it has been jumping about 9 million dollars a year. "We have to run that fast just to stand still," says State Supt. Claude Purcell.

Some states have special problems. In the coal mines of West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky, machines permit six men to mine twice the coal 60 men produced a decade ago. Accompanied by a declining demand for coal, this mechanization has caused widespread unemployment.

In Texas, a sharp decline in oil production caused a drop in state revenue. Legislators blame foreign oil imports.

In Florida, a freeze in the citrus fruit country last year was transmitted to the state treasury in the form of lower revenue.

But today's storm can bring tomorrow's sunshine.

Louisiana, hurt by the recession and the decline in oil production, was facing the necessity of finding new revenue. Then it became known President Eisenhower would restrict oil imports.

Gov. Earl Long, who had withheld state lands from oil leases because of poor bids, put them up for grabs. In a single day's leasing, the state treasury scooped up 59 million dollars and the budgetary problems were solved.

NEXT: The answer: Taxes.

U.S. Banker Group Asks Higher Tax on Savings and Loans

CLEVELAND (AP)—The American Bankers Assn. plans to ask Congress to impose higher taxes on mutual banks and savings and loan companies.

The ABA will offer Congress a proposal designed to achieve more equitable federal taxation of commercial banks, mutual savings banks and savings and loan associations. Miller addressed the annual convention of the Ohio Bankers Assn. Monday.

The proposed legislation, Miller said, would abolish the existing provision governing tax-deductible transfers to reserves by mutual thrift institutions.

John A. Wallace of Willard, president of the Willard United Bank, was elected president of the Ohio Bankers Assn. to succeed Loring L. Gelbach, chairman and president of Central National Bank of Cleveland.

Ex-New Carlisle Mayor To Be Buried Thursday

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Arthur W. McMahan, 75, mayor of nearby New Carlisle from 1952 to 1958, died Monday night in Springfield Mercy Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage.

A retired Miami County farmer and native of Clark County, he formerly lived in Springfield. His survivors include a son, the Rev. John W. McMahan, superintendent of the Lima District of the Methodist Church at Lima.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in the First Methodist Church at New Carlisle.

Cancer strikes silently and painlessly. The American Cancer Society says the best time to see the doctor is before there are symptoms. A yearly checkup can detect a "silent" cancer.

Toledo Opposes Rossford Cutback

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo Mayor John Yager has suggested organization of a group of business and labor leaders to seek review of an order cutting activities and employment at the nearby Rossford Ordnance Depot.

The depot's commander, Col. Bernard B. Abrams, has announced that operations will be reduced during 1959 and employment dropped from 3,100 to 1,618.

Operations will be transferred to Erie Ordnance Depot and four other ordnance installations.

Yager said the cutback is disastrous to Toledo. He said the city should try to "convince the Army that Rossford is a more logical place to consolidate depot work than Erie."

Keep Ohio's Door Open

Automobile production is going to have an increasingly important role in Ohio's economy—unless Ohio slams the door in the face of industry.

That's the conclusion of an article in the Cincinnati Enquirer, and there's no logical rebuttal to challenge its correctness.

Brady Black, Enquirer writer, reported that the new small cars planned by Ford will be assembled at the Lorain Assembly Plant, and that GM's little car will probably be built at Chevrolet's Norwood plant, near Cincinnati.

He made the highly significant comment that the plans of the automobile firms are contingent on Ohio retaining its present favorable "business climate." Legislative actions in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio are being watched by the automobile industry, he commented.

It should be added that all industries are keeping an eye on legislative matters pertaining to business and to increased taxation—especially in Ohio.

Ohio has for a number of years had a favorable business climate, and as a result has become the No. 2 industrial state in the nation.

For a state to provide conditions that are fair to business does not mean that industry must be mollycoddled. On the contrary, industry should pay its way, tax-wise and also in civic and charitable endeavors. But there must also be sensible limitations on the weight of the financial burden which industry is expected to bear.

These sensible limitations are usually exceeded when visionary planners afflicted with a severe case of "welfare statism" gain control and launch give-away programs. Their usual policy is to tap industry for the money needed to carry out their grandiose plans, and at the same time use business as a whipping boy.

Ohio has avoided this short-sighted policy which, though it can be presented in such a manner as to win widespread public appeal, usually leads to severe financial, social and governmental problems.

The result has been more plants, more jobs and more money. Under the circumstances, the people of Ohio are fully justified in demanding that the same steady course be followed in the future.

If an upward revision in the state budget is unavoidable, the tax increases should be spread carefully, fairly and as sparingly as possible.

It's up to the General Assembly and the state administration to keep Ohio in the forefront as a state which welcomes industrial development on a fair-both-ways basis.

Abuse Engenders Confusion

Senator Magnuson of Washington says that it is not unusual to hold up a Presidential nomination for a Cabinet post a long time. President Eisenhower appointed Admiral Lewis L. Strauss to be Secretary of Commerce on October 24, 1958. It is now six months since that day.

It might be interesting if Senator Magnuson, who presides over the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, which has to pass on Secretary Strauss' nomination, would have his staff do a research job to show how many Cabinet officers' appointments have been held up for such a long period. Secretary of State Christian Herter was confirmed in four hours.

Furthermore, Senator Magnuson says that he does all this holding up to give Senator Estes Kefauver and Senator Clinton Anderson, who are not members of this committee, an opportunity to question Secretary Strauss, which they have the right to do, but should that privilege be used to hold up a Presidential nomination as long as they please? I hope that such questioning is in public, on television, so that the entire country can listen to the badgering of a public servant of fine qualifications and a great record of service.

Also, Senator Magnuson wants some scientists to have an opportunity to object to Secretary Strauss. It is reported that some scientists object to the way Strauss handled matters "involving fallout, clean bombs, weapon testing, and security regulations" when he was Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Of course, Admiral Strauss has been pretty tough on such scientists as were pro-Communist or pro-Russian, who while working for the government of the United States chose to put their private wisdom ahead of the adopted policies of our government. Do Senators Kefauver and Anderson want the reputation of running interference for such persons?

It all started with the Oppenheimer Case concerning which Strauss took a rather strong stand and Oppenheimer was required to leave the Atomic Energy Commission because of Communist involvement.

It was unfortunate that we lost the services of Oppenheimer who has a fine scientific mind, but his own testimony convicted him of Communist participation, of being a blabber-mouth and at times, untruthful. Of Oppenheimer it can correctly be said that he convicted himself, that no witness did him in and that Strauss would have been derelict in his duty had he defended Oppenheimer.

The committee hearings to confirm Strauss started on March 17 and nothing has come of them up to the moment of writing this sentence. Meanwhile Strauss acts as Secretary of Commerce without Senatorial confirmation.

The scientists, incidentally, ought to have nothing to say except as citizens testifying before a Congressional committee under oath on pertinent matters. The question is not whether Admiral Strauss pleased the physicists but whether his experience, knowledge and wisdom justify his appointment as Secretary of Commerce. Senator Magnuson can bring in all the physicists in the United States to testify that they do not like Lewis Strauss. What would that prove about his ability to be Secretary of Commerce? What do the physicists know about commerce, domestic or foreign? Why not also bring in psychoanalysts?

We have here a confusion of authority. Although the Constitution provides that a Federal official shall be nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate, it was never intended that the Senate should use its confirming power to embarrass the President for political reasons, to try to rake up ancient and settled issues, to seek out unfriendly witnesses and to delay action in an outrageous manner. This is precisely what Senator Magnuson is doing and it is intolerable from the standpoint of efficient government.

Senator Magnuson has also said that such an article as this one is being put into the newspapers by Admiral Strauss' friends. For the Senator's information, this one was not inspired by anyone but Senator Magnuson whose statements to the press on the subject bespeak the folly of attempting to operate government by whim and spite.

The confirming power of the Senate is an important chain in the balance of power which is the characteristic of our form of government. Whenever any phase of government is abused by officials, it puts the entire system out of gear; it engenders confusion and disrespect among the people not only for the contumacious lawmakers but for the form of government.

Deaths of 7 Tots Is Blamed on Dad

GOETTINGEN, Germany (AP) — A university hospital employee was held today in connection with the death of seven of his children, all within a few days of birth between 1949 and 1957.

Four children born previously are still living, now aged between 12 and 23.

Police said they suspected Otto Loehmann, 46, of causing the death of his babies either deliberately or by neglect. All were born at home and died of pneumonia, gripple or general weakness. Police said an initial investigation indicated nothing had been done to save them. Loehmann's wife was not arrested.

Ex-Cleric Admits Pulling Burglaries

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A former Methodist minister who said he committed burglaries to raise money for a fresh start in life has been sentenced to five years in prison for grand larceny.

Judge L. A. Grayson sentenced Byrd Alexander Geiger, 41, Monday. Geiger admitted he broke into 18 business establishments and schools.

He told police he pawned some of the items he stole to pay off debts and to have money for a new start in another city.

Cirrhosis Still Deadly

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Cirrhosis of the liver is one of the ten leading causes of death in the United States today. And the number of fatalities from this disease is increasing.

Between the ages of 45 and 64, the only diseases that kill more Americans are heart disease, cancer and cerebral hemorrhage.

Back in 1956—the last year for which I have statistics—cirrhosis claimed 18,000 lives. Two-thirds of the victims were men.

According to one report the disease apparently is highest in the eastern industrial states and in California. It is lowest in the South and Southwest. The highest death rate occurs in the District of Columbia, the lowest in South Carolina.

We have known for a long time that alcoholism is a contributing factor to cirrhosis of the liver. More than one-fourth of all deaths from this disease are reported to be associated with alcoholism.

Since we have an estimated 5,015,000 alcoholics in this country, the situation might be viewed with alarm. However, we don't know the exact relationship between alcoholism and cirrhosis. We believe that it is the poor nutritional diet most alcoholics maintain that causes the trouble, not the liquor itself.

One doctor recently wrote in a medical publication:

"There is no evidence to support the belief that beverage alcohol, per se, has an etiological effect on hepatic cirrhosis."

Canada had an estimated population of 17,048,000 on June 1, 1958. Montreal is the largest city with a population of 1,109,439.

The cirrhosis, he says, is the result, not of beverage alcohol, but of poor nutritional intake.

In this respect, he says, "The person who drinks 20 bottles of sweet, carbonated beverages a day is as likely to develop cirrhosis as the person who drinks a pint of whisky every day."

Generally, a person who drinks without any restraint has a diet that is deficient in protein and certain vitamins.

Fortunately, we can effectively treat mild to moderate cases of cirrhosis. But, unfortunately, the advanced stages still give us considerable trouble. Surgery, however, seems to be of help even in late cases.

Question and Answer

Mrs. Z. N.: Is there a drug that would help cure alcoholism and would it require a doctor's prescription?

Answer: There is a drug used in the treatment of alcoholism. It may only be taken under the supervision of a physician.

BIG DIFFERENCE IN ECONOMY

A Plymouth V-8 has once again proved that it can give better gasoline economy than either the Ford or Chevrolet V-8s! For the third straight year, a Plymouth won its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run—America's recognized competitive test for economy. The 1959 Plymouth's big standard V-8 scored 21.15 miles per gallon.

And Plymouth's "Two-Mile Try-Out" proves the difference. Drive a Plymouth! Prove to yourself that it gives you the Big Difference. Ask a Plymouth salesman for price comparisons of Plymouth and the other low-price cars. You'll find you don't pay for Plymouth's Big Difference.

Garden Gossip

Mrs. Ed Fetherolf, Stringtown, showed up at the arranger's class with daffodils of amazing beauty and size.

Mrs. William Defenbaugh of near Tarleton says she's looking forward to iris season. This is the second year for a lot of her new irises and she's expecting a lot of bloom.

Bird watchers have a great deal of fun. When I met Myrtle Noggle last week she was all excited because she had seen a widgeon. "What," I had to ask, "is a widgeon?" Note—it's a kind of duck.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horst who formerly lived here in Circleville are planning to do a good bit of gardening this summer at their farm in Vermont. "It's right in the Green Mountains, and the most beautiful scenery in the world," Mr. Horst says.

Mr. Horst taught Social Science when he lived in Circleville on W. Union Street. I told him I remembered that his wife had planted violets in rows on either side of the walk. He said, "Oh no, I planted the violets. She plans and I plant." Sounds like a nice deal for Mrs. Horst.

Mrs. M. E. Swackhammer, Route 3, Circleville, has a coleus that has reached the height of 54 inches. Last fall she grew it from a little start.

CREeping PHLOX is at its most beautiful now. The Eddie Montgomerys use it to great advantage near the front of their house on Seyfert Ave.

Now that her son Tim is at military school Mrs. Frank Teegardin has taken over the lawn mowing. She got out the lawn mower book to be sure she oiled the mower properly. She ended up by calling the manufacturer. A n y w a y the Teegardin mower is now properly oiled.

Well, not all the boxwood in town was injured. The big lovely specimen in the Marfield yard was apparently untouched by the winter.

Floyd Bartley says that the red-bud has never been lovelier. The individual blossoms are larger than usual.

Floyd also says that his collector friends are using cellophane bags with a drop or two of water in them to keep their specimens fresh. They used to carry their heavy presses around and press their discoveries as they found them.

Local Scotch broom did not survive the winter. Too bad the ladies love anything so temperamental.

Mrs. James Moffit says Scotch broom is anything but temperamental down near Richmond, Va. It grows wild all along the roads.

Mrs. Schubert Measamer, Knollwood Village, who grew outrageously tall castor beans last year, kept lots of seeds. She tried soaking a few before planting them and sure enough she says they sprouted with surprising speed.

Mrs. Luther Bower, Beverly Road, has a way of telling whether or not roses are dead. She wiggles the bush and if the roots are not tight in the soil that means they are dead.

Gunner Musselman's flowering crabapple is exceptionally beautiful this year.

ONE WAY TO tell that spring has come is to look and see if the John Masts have put out their lawn chairs. These chairs are painted in pastel hues and are very ornamental.

Somebody told me that the Masts' geese kept the strawberry patch free of weeds and insects and never touched the strawberries. This story sounds most interesting. We hope it's true.

Will Fischer, Ashville, found the first mushrooms in the vicinity this year—at least the first we heard about.

Joe Bell, an avid mushroom hunter, slipped out to our woods to look for mushrooms on the day he heard about Will Fischer's find. No luck!

Joe Bell and his kids and his father-in-law, Bob Brehmer, have more fun and more luck finding mushrooms than anybody we know. That is anybody we know except Johnny Ebert who had gathered five pounds of mushrooms down in the hills last week. We asked him if he thought there were any in our woods. He said our woods was pretty wet for mushrooms. Then he knocked at the door about fifteen minutes later with ten.

INDOOR GARDEN—The 116 plants that make up Mrs. Ed Helwage's collection of houseplants are used most effectively to decorate and brighten the Helwage home at 400 N. Court St. (Staff Photo)

Coleus Gives Garden Effect In Home Decor

By MRS. ELIZABETH JONES
Herald Garden Editor

To paraphrase the French police who say "Find the woman" when some spectacular crime has been committed, garden editors say, "Find the compost heap" when they come upon a spectacular garden.

Such a garden is Mrs. Ed Helwage's display of indoor plants which graces the interior of the Helwage home at 400 N. Court St. Mrs. Helwage has been very successful in creating a garden effect within the house by using her 116 potted plants as a part of her decor. (Mrs. Helwage said she had never counted the plants. It was her grandson, Bruce, who counted them one day and announced the total.)

Sure enough the Helwages do have a compost heap tucked away in the backyard. Mrs. Helwage is certain that her plants thrive because she pots them in soil manufactured from her compost heap—plain garden dirt and peat moss mixed in equal parts. And her advice to indoor gardeners is to start immediately on a compost heap.

Most of Mrs. Helwage's plants are in windows, some of which are the big picture type. But even in the bedrooms and the bathroom the windows are framed with plants.

AS IN AN outdoor garden the effectiveness of her design does not come from many different kinds of plants but rather the use of one kind. In the case of Mrs. Helwage it is coleus, used over and over for coleus.

Mrs. Helwage does have quite a collection of plants including philodendron, begonias, succulents and African violets. These add interest and variety but it is her healthy many colored coleus that give the garden effect to the Helwage home.

Does Mrs. Helwage have advice for would-be indoor gardeners? Yes! "Unless," says Mrs. Helwage, "You really love working with plants don't try to have too many."

Mrs. Helwage loves working with hers but if she didn't she would find it a difficult chore indeed. Her 116 plants take just a lot of her time. There's the matter of watering, feeding and turning towards the sun.

She does not water all the plants each day. Mrs. Helwage says that you come to have an instinctive knowledge of what a plant needs when you work with a lot of them. That's why she does not give too much advice. She just sort of knows when plants feel thirst or need to be turned toward the sunlight.

When the Helwages remodeled their home several years ago and Mrs. Helwage first started to put plants in the big picture window the other members of the family were not certain they liked the horticultural decorations. Now they have decided the vine-framed window filled with plants is as pretty as can be.

CERTAINLY it's a pleasant spot for the bird cage and aquarium. The bird along with fish and snails are other hobbies that Mrs. Helwage enjoys.

What happens to the plants in the summer? They all go out to the Helwage garden. And this garden is a pleasant spot indeed with its rock-edged flower beds and a big lily pond with lots of goldfish.

So winter or summer, Mrs. Helwage is busy with her plants, and nowhere are plants happier than in the Helwage household where they are kept and cultivated for no other reason than that Mrs. Helwage loves 'em.

Kingwood Eyes Heavy Visits

Brilliant masses of golden color are now creating an eye catching display for Kingwood Center, Mansfield, visitors.

Thousands of daffodils attractively arranged in natural woodland settings and formal garden beds are certain to delight all who visit the colorful gardens. Many new varieties as well as older types of merit are included in the planting.

A number of especially fine, outstanding varieties may be seen in several of the test garden plots. Over 500 varieties are included in the collection.

All of the daffodils are labeled. Visitors are urged to bring a pencil and paper in case they want to take notes on varieties. Comfortable walking shoes are also a prerequisite to an enjoyable visit.

IN ADDITION to the excellent display of daffodils, grape hyacinths, hyacinths, scillas, winter aconites and some of the early iris can be seen.

For those with an eye to the future, remember that the tulip display is not far off. Thousands of bulbs have been planted in preparation for the spectacular garden show which every year draws crowds from far and wide to the Center.

The tulip gardens are expected to be making a nice showing during the first three weeks in May with a peak around the 12th of May.

Article Gives Landscape Aid

More and more homeowners are becoming interested in having well landscaped yards and lawns that add so much to comfortable enjoyment of outdoor areas.

With good planning, it is possible to have fine landscaping even in a small back yard, including a patio and living area, a play area for children, places for laundry and garbage cans, and space for a vegetable and cutting area.

The current issue of Flower &

Special Care Is Needed for Rose Planting

By George Hamrick
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

The same care must be used in planting roses as in planting other woody plants. The roots must be kept moist until the plants are re-set and the holes in which they are planted must be large enough to permit the roots to be spread in a natural position.

Neither fresh manure nor commercial fertilizers must be placed in direct contact with the roots. The roots must be well spread with fertile and friable soil between them. The soil must not be too wet and must be thoroughly compacted about the roots.

Roses should be planted as soon as possible after they are received. If the plants have been heated in when they are ready to be set the plants should be taken to the permanent location with the roots thoroughly covered, no matter how short the distance.

More plants are killed by excessive exposure of roots at planting time than by any other cause. The roots may be placed in a bucket of water while being removed to the planting ground, or puddled in a mixture of thin clay and then kept covered with wet burlap or other protection until planted, making sure that the clay does not dry out before planting.

EACH PLANT should be set so that the union of the bud and the stock is level with the surface of the ground. If planted too shallow the roots probably will be exposed and will dry at the exposed portions. This will prevent the passage of sap from the covered tips of the roots to the branches.

Too shallow planting also may cause a lack of firm anchorage in which case the wind will sway the plant losing it from the soil causing roots to dry and die.

If planted too deep the bark of the buried stems will be injured and growth will be checked until new roots form nearer the surface.

In planting dormant rose bushes it is desirable to trim the ends of broken roots just before they are placed into the holes so that there will be a good, smooth, fresh surface which will callus and heal over. The hole where the roses are to be planted should be several inches larger across than the roots will extend and ample in depth with a little loose earth on the bottom.

The roots should be separated well and extending in all directions with the soil worked in among them, and should be arranged in layers, the roots in each layer being spread out like the finger of your hand.

Fluorescent Lighting Changes Mrs. May's Luck with Violets

AFRICAN VIOLET—These excellent specimens were grown by Mrs. Charles May, 225 S. Court street. Fluorescent lighting, Mrs. May believes, is responsible for her change of luck. Time was when violets did not flourish in the May home. Now she grows many varieties with greatest ease.

Mrs. Charles May's old-fashioned garden has long been a delight to pedestrians along W. Mound St. No passer-by ever misses a chance to peek through the ornamental iron fence to catch a glimpse of the spring bulbs, roses and wild columbine that grow in the brick edged flower beds.

This garden was once a part of Circleville's original mound. The yard with its buckeye and hawthorne trees, its lilacs and grape arbor is in perfect keeping with the Mays' century old house.

What the average passer-by does not know is that Mrs. May has become something of a specialist in African violet growing. She grows them most successfully under artificial light.

The May violets are big, healthy, blooming plants and Mrs. May loves them the more because she has not always had good luck with violets. She always loved them she recalls. From time to time she received many as gifts. But about a month under Mrs. May's care and the violets drooped and ceased blooming.

QUITE suddenly her luck changed. One of her violets, she kept it close to an electric light, began to flourish and bloomed for months without stopping.

This success gave Mrs. May an entirely different outlook on African violet growing. She decided she could and would have violets. Now a fluorescent lamp, perhaps a yard in length, provides light for two or three dozen violets, many of them enormous plants, all grouped on a long table.

Mrs. May's violets are all named varieties. She has whites, pinks, purples, singles and doubles. The foliage of some is variegated and scalloped or ruffled. But Mrs. May likes violets, period and does not bother too much with names.

The fluorescent light is turned off at night when Mrs. May retires and turned on the first thing in the morning.

Mrs. May makes violet growing sound very uncomplicated. Essentially a busy, civic-minded person she just gives the violets what they need and goes about her business. She says that her long service on the Home and Hospital board has provided her with a keen interest in the welfare of old folks. And violets are not going to keep her away from this absorbing task.

MRS. MAY uses Regular African violet soil (the kind available at all five and dime stores). She waters her violets from the bottom with rain water, room temperature. She fertilizes her plants with pellets.

Mrs. May gives away violets. She starts them with ease in a glass of water in the window. They will root in four weeks time.

Mrs. May's violets are a triumph over tough luck. They are feathers in the caps of persistence and fluorescent lighting.

Brave Blossom Suffers Sad Fate

"Full many a flower is born To blush unseen and waste Its sweetness on the desert air"

This this was not the case of a dahlia that bloomed in the basement of the Harold Pontius home, Route 1, Circleville. Last washday Mrs. Pontius discovered one of her dahlia tubers had sprouted and grown a perfect flower.

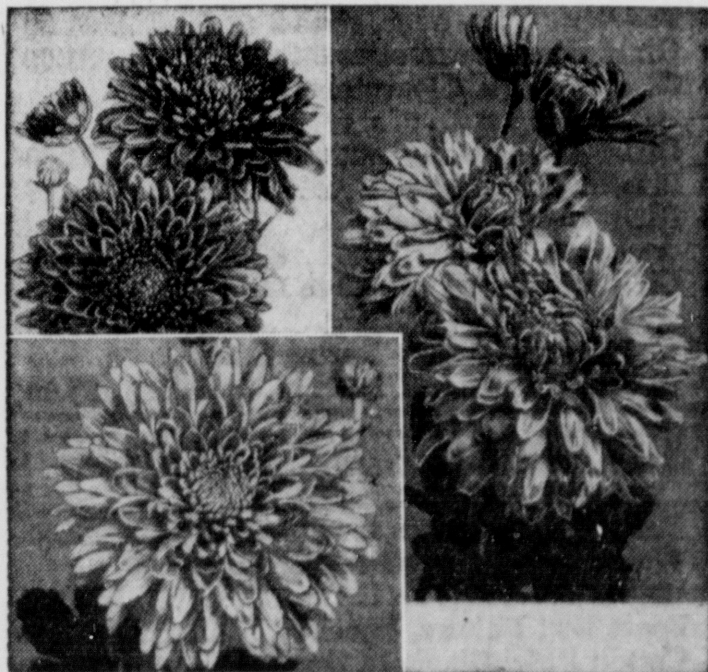

Mrs. Pontius, Pickaway County flower fancier, winters her dahlias over in the laundryroom of her basement. She stores them in sand and waters them about four times during the winter.

Frequently, come spring, the tubers have sprouts but this is the first year for one to blossom before being planted outdoors.

WE WERE so interested in this noteworthy feat of the dahlia tuber that we asked Mrs. Pontius to bring it to the Herald office to be photographed.

During the trip to town it lost its petals. Actually we are wondering now, whether it's worse to waste your sweetness on desert air or to lose your petals on the way to the photographer.

1959 All-America Mums Should Be Ordered Now

1959 ALL-AMERICA MUM SELECTIONS—Crimson Lady of deepest red, above, and Flair of lively lavender, on left, are the newest and best cushion chrysanthemums. Girl Friend of dawn pink, on right, is the new large decorative winner. Order by catalogue if these winners are not available from local plantmen.

Chrysanthemums may be planted as late as the middle of June and with reasonable care bloom to perfection in autumn.

However Robert Terbeek, president of the Central Ohio Chrysanthemum Society, says that the 1959 All-America Mum selections are available mainly from catalogues and probably will not be available to too many local nurseries.

Terbeek suggests that you order the All-America Mum selections now. These All-America mums have been under trial in locations across the country and have proven highly satisfactory.

The award winners are: Crimson Lady, Flair and Girl Friend. TO BE TRUE to name and honor, always look for the red, white and blue AAMS certification label or plant tag on every plant. None are genuine without this tag.

Crimson Lady is your "lady-in-red", richly brilliant and unforgettable. The very double, 2 1/2 inch flowers are borne in abundance, always neat and of long lasting substance. The 14 to 16 inch mounded plant is compact with splendid dark green foliage, attractive in the garden even before the eye-catching blooms appear to blanket the plant with solid red. It's the man's favorite, too.

Flair is also classed as a cushion mum and larger flowered. Perfectly formed double flowers are 3 1/2 inches across and the bush reaches 18 inches in height with some 30 inches spread. And, the color is a lovely and lively lavender. Flair holds its pastel beauty under varied weather conditions. Flower shape is accountable for much of its overall loveliness.

Inner petals have acute tips with blades incurved and concave; outer petals have rounded tips and straight, convex blades.

Girl Friend is the stately decorative "Miss America" for 1959. Talented and appealing, indoors and out, she is delightful to look at, a treasure to have. Pinch her for an accommodation of numerous flowers on long stems or let her do what comes naturally for luring charms, larger blooms. The long stemmed flowers naturally grow about 4 inches across. The coral coloring was variously described by the judges as flesh to peach pink and apricot and timing of flowering was found as just right in September and October.

Donald McBeth Gives Aids To Pruning and Grafting

The Circleville Garden Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Lawson, 300 Sunset Drive for their April meeting. President Floyd Bartley presided. During the meeting correspondence was read from Gov. DiSalle and State Rep. Ed Wallace.

Mrs. Kelson Bower reported on the regional meeting at Columbus, calling attention to the election of Mrs. Frank Smith as the new regional director. Mrs. Smith is president of the Monrovia Garden Club. The Victor Reis Memorial Fund was also discussed; each Garden Club was asked to donate to the fund according to membership.

Mrs. George Lawson, chairman, told of various projects that need attention and suggested that planting at Memorial Hall be replaced. Mrs. Woltz reported on the rose plantings at Ted Lewis Park. The annual Iris Tour was discussed; members were asked to give their suggestions of gardens to be toured.

The Mt. Pleasant Garden Club will have a trading-post from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m., Saturday at the Flo-Lizer Farm Service Center, S. Main St., Kingston. A registration and trading permit will be issued for a nominal fee.

The Circleville Art League will have a show at the Court House beginning Sunday. Mrs. Fred Mavis, Mrs. Kelson Bower, and Mrs. George Lawson were asked to make an arrangement for the opening of the show.

The Federation Flower Show will be held May 20th in Williamsport beginning at 9 a. m. A covered dish luncheon will be held at the noon hour.

Donald McBeth led a discussion on pruning and grafting. He advised pruning fruit trees so that splitting at a fork will not occur. Three good grafting methods were demonstrated: the bud graft, whip graft and the cleft graft.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to twenty members and one guest, Mrs. Florence Baker. Mrs. Howard Smith was co-hostess with Mrs. George Lawson.

Three AAUW Women Visit The Ohio General Assembly

The Circleville branch of the American Association of University Women met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Dick Tootle, Route 2. Nineteen members and two guests, Miss Dorothy Smedley and Mrs. William Ford, were present.

Two invitations were read to the group. The Waverly AAUW invited Circleville members to attend a branch meeting and musical program Wednesday. The Circleville Art League extended an invitation to its exhibit at the Pickaway County Court House on May 10.

Charles Styers' Granddaughter Is Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McCabe, Columbus, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Carol to Mr. W. C. Whitaker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Whitaker, Cincinnati.

The bride-elect attended Ohio State University and is a graduate of Columbus Business University. She is associated with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. Whitaker will graduate from OSU in June. He plans to do architectural work.

The open church wedding will be an event of June 13 in the North Broadway Methodist Church, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Styers, Sr., 623 E. Mound St. are the grandparents of the bride-elect.

Junior Women Bring Mikado To Circleville

The audience had enthusiastic praise for the fine performance of "The Mikado" at Circleville High School auditorium on Saturday evening. Thomas Peters from his first solo, "A Wandering Minstrel" in the role of Nanki-Poo captivated his audience with his fine voice. Janet Nesler, as Yum-Yum also won approval of the audience.

Those who had seen other performances of "The Mikado" were in agreement that Robert Stone as Ko-Ko and Mary Ann Reinhardt as Katisha gave their roles a solid interpretation. Many of the men who appeared in this chorus are members of the Goodyear Chorus at the Waverly Atomic plant.

Other members of the cast were Virgil Emmer as The Mikado, Thomas Vetter as Pooh-Bah, Marilyn Hanson as Pish-Tush, Shirley Gossage as Peep-Boo and Pricilla Duncan as Pitti-Sing.

Mrs. Peggy Boggs of Waverly served as musical director for the opera as well as conductor for the orchestra. Mrs. Boggs, when interviewed after the performance, reported that none of the members of the group is a professional though some are public school music teachers.

Mrs. Boggs is a housewife who is filling a vacancy in the music department of her local school on a temporary basis. While some of the members of the orchestra are high school students, most of the group are people who might have put their instruments away after high school and forgotten about them had they not had an opportunity to become associated with the Operetta Guild.

Mrs. Boggs said that though many members of the orchestra are from Chillicothe or Waverly, others are from many more distant towns.

Members of Circleville Junior Woman's Club expressed pleasure in having had a part in bringing musical entertainment here.

Proceeds from the Operetta will be used for the club's annual scholarship to a future nurse or teacher.

Beta Rho Plans Luncheon Saturday

The Beta Rho Chapter of Pickaway County, Alpha Delta State, Delta Kappa Gamma, will hold its annual Founder's Day luncheon at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, at the Pickaway Country Club.

Rev. Alonzo Hill Performs Seymour-Butterbaugh Rites

Before an altar decorated with seven branched candelabra and palms Miss Mildred Seymour became the bride of Mr. William Butterbaugh at 7:30 p. m., April 11, at the Pilgrim Holiness Church with the Rev. Alonzo Hill officiating. Miss Seymour is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Seymour, Route 4 and Mr. Butterbaugh, Route 4, and Mrs. Opal Hedges, Ringgold.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white chiffon over taffeta with a lace bodice, with a shoulder-length veil. An orchid bouquet tied with white satin lover bow knots topped her white Bible. Mrs. Clarence Duvall, Tarleton, served as matron of honor for her sister. She wore an orchid dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mr. Clarence Duvall, Tarleton, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man.

Mrs. Forest Seymour, the bride's mother, wore a navy suit with blue accessories; her corsage was of white carnations.

The bridegroom's step-mother wore a grey suit with white and blue accessories; her corsage was of white carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony.

mony at the home of the bride's parents. Hostesses were Miss Pat Duvall, Miss Shelley Beavers, Miss Mary Cradelbaugh, Miss Beverly Tootle, Miss Judy Duvall and Miss Lois Ann Beavers.

The new Mrs. Butterbaugh is a 1956 graduate of Stoutsville High School.

Mr. Butterbaugh attended Walnut Twp. High School and is presently employed at the F. S. Brewer Gravel Co., Lancaster.

The couple will make their home at 111 Pontious Lane.

Mrs. Harmount Presents Topic At Garden Club

Mrs. P. T. Harmount presented the topic "Birds and Conservation" when the Logan Elm Garden Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Leslie Dearth, president, at her home in Kingston.

The meditation was read by the hostess. Roll call was answered by each member naming her favorite bird.

A new book for the club library, "The Guide to Garden Flowers" was ordered.

An announcement was read concerning the trading post that the Mt. Pleasant Garden Club is holding from 1 p. m. until 4 p. m. Saturday at the Flo-lizer Farm Service Center, Kingston.

Mrs. Dearth reported on the regional meeting of the Ohio District Garden Clubs that she attended April 15 in Columbus. The theme of the meeting was "Knowing, Growing, Showing, Sharing". The gift was donated by Mrs. Raymond Moats and won by Mrs. George Macklin.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Robert E. Bower will be hostess at the next meeting.

William Justus' Granddaughter Is Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Justus, Columbus, formerly of Circleville, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris Ada to Mr. Robert Durley, Columbus.

Miss Justus is a 1956 graduate of Linden-McKinley High School, Columbus.

Mr. Durley is a 1956 graduate of North High School and is associated with the Gustav Organization, Inc., Columbus.

The wedding will be an event of May 16.

Miss Justus is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Justus, 268 S. Scioto St.

The Pomona Grange will hold its meeting at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Commercial Point High School. Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Caldwell will show and narrate slides of their trip around the world.

Family Circle Enjoys Carry-In Dinner Sunday

Herb Hammel conducted a Biblical quiz and games at the meeting Sunday evening of the Family Circle of the Trinity Lutheran Church.

Pastor Zehner led the group in the opening prayer, and a hymn singing.

Glen Easterday led the devotions; the business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. John Smith.

The group enjoyed a carry-in dinner.

Remember that fresh asparagus should be kept cool until it is used, so store it in the refrigerator in a moisture-proof bag or container.

No Heavy Favorite Seen For Big Derby

Tuesday's Trial Fails To Produce Standout For Saturday's Sprint

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It seems sure now that the 85th running of the Kentucky Derby Saturday isn't going to produce a heavy favorite among the bettors. Three prime reasons show up today:

1. The eye-catching filly Silver Spoon definitely will run in the mile-and-a-quarter classic at Churchill Downs barring injury.

2. Tuesday's Derby Trial, expected to cut into the big crowd hoping for a chance at the $125,000 added money and the gold cup, failed to produce a topheavy winner.

3. The status of two top contenders feared out of the race has improved.

First Landing, last year's champion 2-year-old, won his division in Tuesday's trial but had to fight off powerful stretch bids by Carrie C. Hillock's Quantrell, who finished third, and K. G. Marshall's John Bruce, a very fast closing second.

Open View from Elkcam Stable showed his derby qualifications by running a mile in 1:35 3-5 in the first division. It was the third fastest trial in history and 3-5 of a second better than First Landing's.

California Derby winner Finnegan battled Open View down to the wire, but lost by a head. Royal Orbit was only another three-quarters of a length away.

Cain Hoy Stable's Hoist Away and Llangollen Farm's Mosby were declared out of the derby after the first division.

A 3-year-old filly became a sentimental favorite when owner C. V. Whitney announced Silver Spoon will run Saturday. Only one filly—Regret in 1915—has ever won the derby.

Easy Spur, lame with a sore ankle, still is a doubtful starter, but Trainer Paul Kelley said: "I imagine I'll put him in the entry box Thursday morning."

Calumet Farm also is unsure about On-And-On. But trainer Jimmy Jones was optimistic today and his father Ben said "This is the most open derby I've ever seen," indicating Calumet probably will go after its third straight derby victory.

Tiger Game Postponed

Circleville's scheduled baseball game at Hillsboro yesterday was postponed due to rain and wet grounds. Coach Dick Fisher said the test has been rescheduled for next Wednesday at Hillsboro.

Next action for the Tigers is slated Thursday when Hilliards comes here for a Central District Class AA contest. The game will start at about 4 p. m.

In case of rain, the Hilliards tilt will be played here on Friday. Coach Fisher said the pitching assignment will go to either Joe Adkins or Don Rowland.

Providing the tourney game is played on Thursday, the Tigers are slated for a trip to Wilmington on Friday. Wilmington and Chillicothe have been the only teams to defeat the Tigers this season.

Little League

Meeting Tonight

Meeting for persons interested in managing or umpiring in the Kiwanis Little League Program during the summer will be held at 7 p. m. today in the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce club rooms, 119½ S. Court St.

Baseball's Three I League is in its 52nd season.

Stoutsville Will Enter SWO League

A baseball team from Stoutsville will compete in the Southwestern Ohio League this season.

The Stoutsville nine will be sponsored by Kiser's IGA Store and managed by Kenny Good. This same team participated in a Columbus league last year, walking off with most of the honors in the loop.

Manager Good said other teams in the Southwestern League are Washington C. H., Chillicothe Reformatory, Chillicothe, Frankfort, Mt. Sterling, Blanchester, Milledgeville and Bloomingburg.

Stoutsville's opening game is set here for May 10. Attempts are being made to schedule home games at Ted Lewis Park diamond. All tests will be played on Sundays, starting at 2 p. m.

Good said tryouts and practices will be held at the Stoutsville High School diamond Saturday and Sunday. Prospective players are asked to bring their gloves and spikes at 1 p. m. on both days.

NCAA May Rap Members Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The NCAA, on notice it will make a board study of the recruiting and financial aid of college athletes, may lower the boom today on offending members.

The final session of the three-day meeting of the powerful Executive Council of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. was devoted to a report from its committee on rules infractions. The committee had 18 cases under consideration.

Preliminaries Of County Track Meet Run Today

The Pickaway County 1959 track preliminaries were cancelled due to rain yesterday and will be held today at Pickaway Twp. School.

Preliminaries in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and both high and low hurdles will be run off.

Finalists and entrants in other events will compete in the All-County track meet to start at 2 p. m. Thursday at Capital University, Columbus.

SPORTS BRIEFS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Does Britain's Brian London have any kind of a chance to take away Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title Friday night?

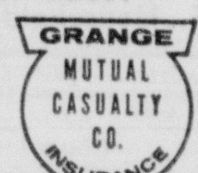

The odds makers (10 to 1) say no. The experts from Britain and the United States say no. But London's right hand booms out a yes.

NEW YORK (AP) — Max Winter, former owner of the Minneapolis Lakers, was practically assured today of a National Basketball Assn. franchise in Chicago for the 1960-61 season.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gaining stature through his convincing 15-round title defense against Virgil Akins, welterweight champion Don Jordan is named "fighter of the month" by Ring magazine, whose monthly ratings were announced today.

Frank Thomas Starting To Earn His Salt

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati's Frank Thomas is bearing down on the job he's paid for. He was hired to hit and after a shaky start this season, he's beginning to hammer the ball with some consistency.

The stocky Redleg third baseman has hit batting average up to .353 now and has hit safely in seven straight games.

The next job for the former Pittsburgh Pirate is to start knocking in more runs. He has accounted for eight of the Reds' 80 runs-batted in, and has 2 homers.

After last season, the Rhinelanders desperately needed someone who could hit consistently. They had to give up some prime talent to get Thomas.

The third sacker and three other pirates were traded for catcher Smokey Burgess, third baseman Don Hoak and pitcher Harvey Haddix.

Thomas didn't cause much excitement with his hitting in spring training. But when the Reds started playing for keeps, his batting improved.

Thomas makes occasional defensive fumbles, including two bad throws in one inning against his old teammates earlier this month.

That led one Pirate to say of Thomas, "He'll prove what a great shortstop Roy McMillan is." But the chances are Thomas' hitting will outweigh his miscues in the field.

The Chicago Cubs drop in here tonight for the first of two games with Brooks Lawrence booked to start on the mound for Cincinnati, opposing Dave Hillman.

Jimmy Foxx Now Convinced: 'At 51, Nobody Wants You'

PHOENIX, Aiz. (AP) —Jimmy Foxx leaned back in a frayed chair and said, "I'm broke and guess I always will be. When you get 51 years old nobody wants you."

"There's nothing tougher than doing nothing. I've had a lot of experience recently at doing nothing."

It hasn't always been this way for famed "Double X." Once he drew a fat paycheck as one of baseball's greatest hitters—second only to Babe Ruth in total home runs.

He was the American League's most valuable player three times—in 1932 and 1933 with the Philadelphia Athletics and 1938 with the Boston Red Sox. He was named to baseball's Hall of Fame. He earned more than a quarter of a million dollars before stepping down in 1945.

The money and the headlines are gone. He lives in a modest rented home in northeast Phoenix. He's out of a job and out of money.

"If my brother Sam wasn't working, we wouldn't be eating," Foxx said.

Foxx's financial plight was discovered a year ago when he was found destitute and in debt in Miami.

He got a job with the Red Sox and spent the summer as a coach with Minneapolis of the American Assn. "Those pay days at least pulled me out of debt," he said.

When Boston decided to train in Scottsdale, Aiz., Foxx headed for nearby Phoenix.

"One month after I arrived they gave me my release," he said. "That left me sitting on a limb. I knew only a few people here. I worked at a job or so. Have had a lot of promises but nothing has turned up."

"I'll work almost anywhere I'm able."

Foxx said doctors had warned him to bypass hard labor. "I've high blood pressure," he explained.

He spends his days around the house. Occasionally he hits a few fungos for the kids in the neighborhood and pushes a rusty power mower around the yard. With him are his wife, and two of his three children—Nancy, 17, and Jim, 14.

He admits he blew in or lost most of his baseball earnings. He can't explain what happened. Nothing seemed to turn out right.

Dear Abby...

Someone Throwing Boston Bull?

DEAR ABBY: DO DOGS HAVE A LANGUAGE? The answer is NO! They have "signals," such as a friendly greeting ("yip"), a warning bark, a growl of displeasure, or a whine of begging, but they say nothing intelligible. There are other members of the animal kingdom who communicate with each other, however. The bee does a dance to inform other bees where a flower with nectar is located. Man's closest relatives, apes and monkeys are more articulate. Marmosets have a language that can be tape recorded and when played back can cause them to line up for food. The orangutan stands on the very threshold of human speech. At least 32 words are known in the chimpanzee vocabulary ("who who who whoo"). Gibbons have nine distinct calls, each with a special meaning such as, "Let's get some fruit" and "Stay away from my wife," etc. Vance Packard's ANIMAL I Q is my authority. Sincerely,

BRUCE D.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine is a well-known animal trainer and he says that he has traveled all over the world training animals and animals DO talk. He further states that French poodles talk French and German Shepherds talk German and Russian wolfhounds talk Russian. Now, what do you say to that?

ELLIS

DEAR ABBY: I say that your friend has been handing you a little Boston Bull.

DEAR ABBY: I have been looking for my Bible but I can't find it. I wanted to tell you the chapter and verse where it came from, but please take my word for it. It is in the Bible. It says in the Bible that God gave man the power to speak and he did not bestow this gift on any other living creature. That should settle the question of whether dogs have a language.

BIBLE STUDENT

DEAR ABBY: You wanted to know if dogs had a language of their own? Of course they do! "Shep" has been my companion for nine years, and he says to me very plainly, "HELLO THERE!" and others can tell you that they can understand him, too. When Shep talks to other dogs he uses an entirely different language, but I can tell if they are arguing or just talking. When adults learn to bark they will have come a long way.

SHEP'S MASTER

Cancer Crusade Tag Day Set For Friday and Saturday

The Pickaway County unit of the American Cancer Society will hold Cancer Crusade Tag Day on Friday and Saturday in the downtown section here.

Members of the local Cancer Crusade and Junior and Senior Service over Self clubs of Circleville High School will be soliciting on the downtown streets of Circleville.

They will be on duty from 4 until 8 p. m. Friday and from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. on Saturday. Persons donating will receive a Cancer Crusade tag.

Tag Day is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lewis D. Young, 981 Lynwood Ave. The SOS groups are under the supervision of Mrs. Charles N. Boggs, 146 W. Mound St.

SOLICITORS MAY BE ascertained by Cancer Crusade arm-bands. This will be the last of the Crusade solicitation functions.

This has been a century of medical milestones.

Since 1900, life expectancy has risen from 47 years to nearly 70 years. Since 1900, the nation's population has doubled. But the number of Americans 65 years old and over has more than quadrupled—from 3,000,000 to 14,000,000.

Among Americans 65 and over, most killing diseases of the past have been effectively controlled. Since 1900, influenza and pneumonia deaths have declined nearly 80 per cent in persons over 65 while tuberculosis deaths have been reduced by 85 per cent.

The cancer death rate, on the other hand, has risen 91 per cent since 1900. And unless this rate is checked, the annual death toll from cancer will double within the next 50 years.

The disease already claims 255,000 Americans a year, half of them 65 and over. By 1975, the number of Americans over 65 years old is expected to exceed 20,000,000.

THE PROBLEM OF cancer has a solution. This disease will be overcome as other dread afflictions have been overcome. If cancer has lasted longer, it is proof only that more must be done to conquer it.

More research is needed. That means more scientists, more equipment, more centers for train-

Business Briefs

Mrs. Joanne D. Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Drake, 508 E. Ohio St., is now attending classes in a course of Cosmetology at the Capital School of Beauty Culture now located in new quarters at 144½ South High Street, Columbus.

The Capital School of Beauty Culture is central Ohio's largest school of beauty, teaching modern and up to date methods of hair-styling and beauty science.

Pupils Ready For Jaycee Auto Road-e-o

County and City high school driver training classes are in the process of taking examinations to determine representatives to the annual Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce Safe Driving Teen-age Road-e-o.

The test of driving knowledge from behind the wheel will be held at 12:30 p. m. next Wednesday. The testing site will be on E. Mound St., from S. Washington and S. Pickaway Sts.

City Safety Director Miller Fissell granted the Jaycees' permission to block off this section of the street for the Road-e-o.

The written exams must be taken by participants before they will be allowed to enter the physical test. Both boys and girls, of high school age, will be allowed to compete.

THE SKILL-DRIVING competition will produce two winners who will compete in the Ohio Teen-Age Safe Driving Road-e-o on June 7 in Sharonville.

Individual trophies to local winners will be awarded. The purpose of the Road-e-o is to promote driving safety and to provide an opportunity for youngsters to demonstrate their abilities as safe operators of motor cars.

Brownie Troops To Be Organized

All mothers of first grade girls who are interested in having their daughters in Brownie Troops next fall, are urged to attend an organizational and orientation meeting to be held at 8 p. m. Thursday, April 29, at the First Methodist Church.

Troops will organize this Spring and will start meeting in the Fall. If enough interested mothers are available for leadership. All Girl Scout work in Pickaway County is voluntary and whether or not troops can be formed depends upon the interest the parents of the girls show in this program.

Mrs. R. L. Brehmer Jr., neighborhood Chairman for Five Trails Neighborhood, will be present to answer questions. Mrs. Howard Parker and Mrs. Charles L. Thompson, troop organizers, for Logan Neighborhood and Five Trails Neighborhood, respectively, will be in charge of the actual formation of the troops.

If you are interested in having your daughter placed in a troop, be sure to attend this meeting. It will be the only meeting held for this purpose and all interested adults are urged to attend.

Texans To Produce Movie of Castro

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A Houston millionaire said today he and two other men have Fidel Castro's signature on an agreement giving them full rights to produce a motion picture on Castro's life.

Frank B. Waters, Houston oil man, said the movie would center on Castro's famous July 26 revolutionary movement. Marlon Brando may be asked to play Castro's role.

Waters said he already has concluded arrangements with Jerry Wald, Hollywood movie producer, to produce the movie.

No Meeting Slated

ing and instruction. Public education must be stepped up. The cancer patient needs more and better care.

Our doctors need more information on the best means of diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

To achieve these objectives, the fight against cancer needs more money. It needs as much as it will take to eliminate cancer as a major killing disease. That would be an attainment, cheap at any price.

The goal of the 1959 Cancer Crusade is a vital one. The goal is unlimited. No price should be put on the lives of the 40,000,000 Americans who will some day get cancer.

Let all of us give all-out support to the American Cancer Society for its unlimited drive against cancer.
